CONFLICT OVER CONSOLIDATION IN LIMELIGHT

Myrtle Davis, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hurls Many Charges in Boise.

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Conflict over authority, divided between the commissioner of education and the superintendent of public instruction broke out today after a meeting of the board of education with the charge by Mrs. Myrtle R. Davis, state superintendent, that "the educational machine" was attempting to have her office abolished.

She told newspapermen after the meeting that the board of education was authorizing the drafting of a measure to abolish the office which would require a constitutional amendment. Her place on the state land board, which has general supervision over sales of land for public endowment funds, would be taken by the treasurer or commissioner of education.

The "educational machine" she described as being C. R. Dienst, superintendent of schools at Boise; John I. Hillman, executive secretary of the Idaho Education association, and W. D. Vincent, commissioner of education.

She declared that Dienst was the "motivating spirit of the State Trustees association which at its last meeting passed a resolution approving abolition of the superintendent's office.

Attacks Hillman, Vincent.

Hillman, she said, was "back of" similar action by the state Parent-Teacher association, while Vincent "is now securing support of the board of education."

She presented to the board a plan for further consolidation of Idaho's "unified educational system," which would abolish the office of commissioner, a plan which she said was opposed by the board.

Instead, the board is planning elimination of the superintendent's office she said, "and in that way will take away from the people every vestige of direct control over their educational system." Abolition of the office would eliminate from the board of education the only elective official.

She declared other states had developed a system where the elective official became the executive officer of the board and this system, she said, she was preparing to recommend to the educational committee in the legislature at their request.

SENATE APPROVES $25,000,000 RELIEF

Backs Red Cross Aid Fund; Opposed by Administration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—The senate went in for a little addition today and provided house administration leaders with a baffling problem in subtraction.

It backed the amendment to give the Red Cross $25,000,000 for relief on the interior department appropriation bill and let republican chieftains at the other end of the capitol racking their brains for a means of eliminating it.

President Hoover is opposed to the proposition. His spokesmen in the senate fought it. His friends in the house fear their best effort will be insufficient to kill it.

The house was busy throughout the day with miscellaneous bills, but its eyes were primarily on the senate's fight and it laid plans for the house battle to come.

Begin Inquiries.

Meanwhile the senate's inquiries into the banking situation and the price of bread were begun under the direction of glass, Virginia, and Capper, Kansas.

The Glass committee heard Comptroller Pole of the currency advise the extension of metropolitan banking organization in rural districts and that power be given to remove incapable banking officials.

Chairman Nye of the senate campaign funds committee made ready for an investigation of the recent Alabama election in which Senator Heflin claims he was defeated by fraud. Nye asked that ballots be preserved for examination by his committee.

The senate naval committee approved the administrations' $50,000,000 naval construction bill.

Experiment With Dates.

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The Texas College of Arts and Industries here soon is to plant an acre of dates on the college farm for experimental purposes.

NO INCREASE IN GASOLINE TAXES

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Albin Harbour, newly appointed commissioner of public works, announced Sunday the program of state and federal aid highway work for the next two years will be carried out without increasing the gasoline tax or issuing tax anticipation notes.

Harbour presented a general plan of work for the next two years in an appearance before the highway committees of the legislature.

PLAN TO STUDY EXEMPT TAXATION

House Committee Seeks to Restore Property to Taxable Class.

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—The house committee on revenue and taxation decided today to make an exhaustive survey of Idaho's plans in operation in other states and to decide whether Idaho $234,000,000 list of tax exempt property could somehow be restored to the taxable class.

Representative Harsh, (rep., Latah) said the committee learned that 44 per cent of the real property was subsequently found to be on the "exempt" list. The immediate study will be to determine whether the law passed by the last legislature has reduced the amount. The 1929 session law provided that if any part of the property of lodges, churches or similar organizations was used for revenue-making purposes, that part of the property would be taxable.

"This immense amount of tax exempt property is one of the big problems before this legislature," he said, "along with our consideration of new revenue sources we should see what can be done to repair the weakness of our old. No matter what new form of taxation is devised it will not abolish the general property tax in its entirety.

A sub committee was appointed to meet with the county assessors at their regular convention to study their recommendations for repairing the present tax systems.

COMMITTEE FAVORS COUNTY ABOLITION

Judiciary Heads Endorse Plan to Consolidate Many Counties.

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—The senate judiciary committee today voted endorsement of an amendment to the constitution to permit the legislature to abolish counties.

The endorsement was voted at a meeting at which the county consolidation proposal to abolish probate courts and a proposal to give prosecuting attorneys greater authority were considered.

In support of the consolidation measure committee members found the legislature should have the same authority in consolidating counties as in dividing them. Provisions for counties themselves were also recommended.

The subject was turned over to Senator Holden, Bonneville, for further study and consideration of the wording of the proposed amendment to the constitution.

Members of the committee expressed the belief that with the approval of the amendment by the voters two or three counties would consolidate. No names were mentioned.

Opposition was voted to the proposal to abolish probate judges, a suggestion emanating from the State Bar association.

B. DIEFENDORF IS FINANCE HEAD

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Ben Diefendorf, Jerome, was named state commissioner of finance by Governor C. Ben Ross today to succeed E. W. Porter.

Diefendorf, deputy city auditor of Jerome, operates one of the largest ranches in that district.

He had 10 years' experience in a Kansas City bank. The governor announced also he had appointed F. T. Halverson, Blackfoot, to replace J. H. Anderson, on the board of the state insane asylum at Blackfoot. Anderson resigned to serve Bingham county in the legislature.

TOM FORD DIES IN LEWISTON

LEWISTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Thomas L. Ford, city treasurer and police judge, died suddenly today from a heart attack shortly after eating luncheon. A resident of Lewiston for 20 years, he had been prominent in political, civil and Masonic fraternal circles. He was born in Memphis, Tenn., August 30, 1870. His widow, two daughters and two sons survive.

FIND BODY OF MISSING WOMAN FROZEN IN ICE

Workers Trying to Cut Ice From Canal; Think Miss Marriott, Teacher, Struck by Auto.

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Jan. 19. (AP)—Encased in a four-foot sheet of ice the body of Miss Enid Marriott, 28-year-old Wiggins, Colo., school teacher, missing for more than two months, was located today in a lateral of the Bijou irrigation canal, eight and one-half miles west of Fort Morgan.

Later today the body was still in the grip of the ice with a score of workers laboring feverishly to remove it. Identification was made possible by a small clear portion of the ice through which searchers were able to recognize the young woman's clothing. All of the body was not seen.

Workers set about cutting an oblong cake of ice from the canal, with the intention of removing it to a mortuary. There the ice was to be melted away and an effort made to establish the exact cause of death and if possible how long she was dead.

In Work Lateral.

The body was discovered in what is known as the work lateral, about 100 yards east of the main canal and two and one-half miles east of a bridge from which it was believed by Morgan county authorities the body was thrown after the woman had been abducted or struck and killed by an automobile.

Various personal effects of Miss Marriott have been found from time to time since she disappeared last November 16. Her mail file was found on the floor of the bridge. Last Sunday searchers found the coat to a pajama suit identified as hers. It was this last discovery that caused a redoubled search for the body.

The discovery followed by two days the arrest of Harry W. Moore, a road worker, being held on an abduction charge.

BRIEFS IN CLARK ACTION ARE FILED

Validity of the Prohibition Law Will be Argued Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Preliminary to Wednesday's battle over the validity of the 18th amendment, the government filed today with the supreme court its appeal from the decision in New Jersey holding the amendment invalid.

A brief supporting Judge Clark's ruling based on the contention that the amendment should have been ratified by state conventions was submitted today by Jeremiah M. Evarts, an attorney of Windsor, Vermont.

He is not associated with counsel for William H. Sprague, whose truck load of beer began the controversy, but was permitted by the court to intervene.

Government Briefs Filed.

Solicitor General Thacher will present the government's contentions. He has already filed a brief outlining his argument. Summed up, it said the questions raised by Judge Clark already have been decided by the court.

Julius Henry Cohen and Seldon Bacon, New York attorneys, will support the Clark decision. Their brief has not been filed. They are expected to follow closely the reasoning of Judge Clark.

Argument in another important prohibition case has been set for the near future. It is an appeal by Richard Husty and Charles Laurel of Grand Rapids, Mich. Their automobile was searched on the streets by agents who had no warrant. They attacked the legality of the search but were convicted in lower court.

MORE CONNECTICUT HIGHWAYS

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Connecticut completed 165½ miles of highway construction and reconstruction in 1930, says John A. Macdonald, commissioner.

SEEKS ASSISTANT ATTY. GENERAL

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—W. D. Gillis, former attorney general, recommended Sunday that the appropriations committee provide for an additional assistant attorney general to handle the business of the public utilities commission and the state insurance fund.

At present, he said, this business is handled almost entirely by private counsel at a cost in excess of the salary of an additional assistant. Fees paid to attorneys last biennium by the state insurance fund totaled $7067, he said. An additional assistant would cost $3000 a year.

RED CROSS OPPOSES DROUGHT AID FUND

Issue Statement to Effect It Wishes to Remain "Voluntary."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Red Cross informed the senate and the country tonight that it desired to remain a volunteer organization.

"We consider ourselves charged with the responsibility in the drought area; we are meeting the needs and will continue to do so," said a resolution adopted by the central committee late today.

The statement was made public shortly after the senate had voted by 56 to 27 to give the organization $25,000,000 to carry on relief work in drought areas and other emergency stricken areas.

The views expressed by the central committee closely coincided with those that have been voiced by President Hoover. James L. Seiser, vice chairman of the Red Cross, visited the White House shortly before the resolution was made public.

Stops Subscriptions.

The Red Cross resolution said in part:

"Some individuals asked to subscribe to this fund, while admitting its need, questioned the necessity of subscribing because of various proposals in congress to appropriate funds to the Red Cross for this and other relief purposes.

"It is well known that under the charter the Red Cross is a voluntary organization and in all of its operations covering a period of almost 50 years it has, through expenditure of voluntary contributions, served at home and abroad and established for itself a well defined place in the confidence of the people of the United States and throughout the world.

"In our opinion it is best as a question of public policy that the Red Cross should remain a purely voluntary organization. We believe that the interests of the country will best be promoted by continuing to rely on the generosity of the nation and by adhering to the fundamental principles upon which this organization was founded."

Boise Youths to Live Sequested Buddhist Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Bound for Japan where they will live a sequested life as Buddhist priests, two Boise youths will sail from San Francisco Thursday on the N. Y. K. liner, Taiyo Maru.

The young men, Francis M. Ormsby and Lewis A. Colburn, are ordained priests of the Buddhist religion. They plan to spend two years in lending Japanese monasteries after which they will return to America. Later they will resume their quest for "the truth" in China, India and other far eastern countries.

For 10 years they have studied for their life work and more recently engaged in menial tasks to earn their passage. Ormsby becomes Brother Zara, "inner light of a diamond," and Colburn becomes Brother Raum, "song of the spheres." In Japan they will be known as Ro-un and Mokusai respectively.

The Day in Washington

(By Associated Press.)

Chairman Wickersham laid before President Hoover the law enforcement commission's report on prohibition.

Senate approved $25,000,000 drought relief appropriation as an amendment to the interior department supply bill.

House passed bill to speed federal construction program by liberalizing restrictions on letting contracts.

Government filed with the supreme court its appeal from the decision of Federal Judge Clark of New Jersey holding the 18th amendment invalid.

Senate committee began investigation of banking situation and retail bread prices.

SEEKS PARDON.

John McDonald, who was convicted of grand larceny in district court here last August, will apply for a pardon at the next meeting of the board of pardons in April, it was learned here Monday.

PROHIBITION REPORT GIVEN TO PRESIDENT

Wickersham Committee Findings Expected to be Presented Congress by This Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Exactly 19 months and 23 days after embarking on its task the Wickersham law enforcement commission today laid its study of the nation's prohibition problem before President Hoover.

The secrecy-surrounded and lengthy document, wrapped in an ordinary brown paper envelope, was taken to the White House by Wickersham and almost immediately Mr. Hoover dropped other tasks to begin studying it.

The president's engagement list was ordered held to a minimum and if expectations are fulfilled he will be able to send it to congress probably with some form of message by tomorrow noon.

It then will be released for publication.

Days before the document was given to the president it became known through sources close to the commission that the majority report of the 11 members at least would carry no recommendations for repeal or modification of the Volstead act to permit wines or beer.

Despite the few words that have leaked out from behind the long closed doors the main portions of both the majority and individual reports have remained shrouded in a secrecy almost unparalled in Washington.

There was a general congratulatory air at the sparsely inhabited commission headquarters during the day that notwithstanding the nearly two years of delibreation upon a highly controversial subject the tenor of these agreements and disagreements have been confined mainly to the circle of the members. Even the transmitting of the report to President Hoover was secret.

The energetic 72-year-old commission chairman left his home early and drove directly to the front door of the executive mansion.

CHELAN LIQUOR TESTIMONY HEARD

Witnesses Say Officers Tipped Off Bootleggers of Raids.

SPOKANE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Testimony that Chelan county officers often drank liquor, that deputies "tipped" bootleggers of impending federal raids and that convicted prisoners' jail sentences were cut short, featured today's session of the trial of Peter Wheeler, former sheriff, and nine others on liquor conspiracy charges.

Howard Bloom, Wenatchee motion picture operator, said he had been on several parties with Deputy George Streval. Once, he said, he noticed a peculiar label on a bottle of whisky and remarked about it to the officer. Streval, he said, replied: "That's too bad. We might be drinking up somebody's evidence."

Mrs. Owen L. Page, once a prisoner for a liquor law violation, said she attended a liquor drinking party also attended by Deputy Streval. The officer had a pint of moonshine, she said, and later ordered and accepted delivery of a case of beer. She quoted him: "If any federal or city police come to raid this place remember I'm raiding it and you're my prisoners."

Streval's day was made more trying by the report that his $7500 farm home near Wenatchee burned last night. Streval remarked "and I had only insured it for $3000." He said he thought his enemies burned it.

Janitors at the courthouse testified they used to see "many" empty liquor bottles come sliding down a refuse shoot. One of them told Sheriff Wheeler about it and they stopped coming.

COOLIDGE, SMITH SPEAK OVER RADIO

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Pleading a common cause—drought relief—Calvin Coolidge and Alfred E. Smith will address a nation-wide audience in a special benefit program Thursday night arranged by the Red Cross. They will speak in support of the campaign to raise $10,000,000 for relief of suffering in drought areas.

Their remarks will be broadcast over the National Broadcasting company network which has offered the services of several radio artists for the same program.

Starting at 9 p. m. the program will originate from three points.

MINER TAKES LIFE IN GRANGEVILLE

GRANGEVILLE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Hugh L. White, 50, miner and forest service employe, walked into a hotel dining room this morning and said to a waitress:

"I'll not need any breakfast; I've just taken poison."

The waitress called a physician but the man died in a few minutes.

His brother said he had been ill and he believed this was the motive for his brother's act.

DEBOE-BOW TRIAL FAILS TO EXCITE

Only Drama in Monday Court Session Provided by Judge.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19. (AP)—The hundreds of curious followers of the Daisy DeBoe-Clara Bow rift as exposed in the courtroom who did not gain admittance today missed but little in the way of sensation.

The three score or so who did crowd inside remained patiently to adjournment at 4:30 p. m., but the only arousing bit of drama given them was contributed not by the voluble Daisy nor by the red-haired film star, who was ill at home with bronchitis, but by Superior Judge William C. Doran, presiding.

He interrupted Defense Counsel Nathan Freedman's early questioning of Miss DeBoe with a reminder "This trial is being conducted solely to determine whether or not Miss DeBoe stole money from Miss Bow as charged."

Doran's interpolation directed he said at both defense counsel and District Attorney David Clark, disappointed the crowd which had come to hear further revelations of Clara's private life as supplied by her former secretary who is charged with stealing $15,300 from the actress.

The furious pace set Friday in Miss DeBoe's testimony was supplanted today by staccato interrogation from the prosecution answered with staccato unadorned replies of "I was" or "I was not," "I did," or "I did not" from Miss DeBoe.

INDIAN PARTNERSHIP PLEDGED BY BRITAIN

Round Table Conference Closes; MacDonald Sets up Policy.

LONDON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Partnership of India as a dominion with responsible self government in the British commonwealth of nations was pledged today by Ramsay Macdonald as the Great Britain round table conference came to a close today.

"You have opened a new chapter in the history of India," was King George's message but it was Mother India who had the last word after nine weeks of oratory and debate.

The demure Begum Shah Nawaz, drawing on Longfellow, quoted a poem epitomizing the spirit of the negotiations still to come: "Let us then be up and doing."

The prime minister enunciated the following policy in his promise:

1.—Amnesty for India's 50,000 political prisoners if "civil order" is restored in India.

Extend Invitation.

2.—An invitation to the Indian extremists to participate in the negotiations still to come before the new Indian government is established.

3.—Establishment of full responsible self government in India with the Imperial British government reserving control of finances, foreign affairs and defense.

4.—Extension of the voting franchise and the lifting of restrictions based on religion and caste.

5.—Establishment of a legislature of two houses modeled along the line of congress of the United States.

6.—Encouragement of Indians to settle their own communal problems.

7.—Uninterrupted continuance of negotiations to settle the details of the new government.

WOULD CONTINUE OFFICERS' SUITS

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—A bill is being drawn up in the senate judiciary committee to provide that suits started against men in public office for acts connected with their administrative or judicial duties will be continued against their successors in office.

The bill was prompted by the decision of the supreme court in the case of Boise-Kuna Irrigation district against Judge Clinton H. Hartson of Ada county. The district brought suit in supreme court to restrain Judge Hartson from enforcing an order affecting distribution of water from the Boise river, but while the case was still pending, Judge Hartson resigned and was succeeded in office by Judge Charles F. Koelsch.

AUTHORIZE LAND BOARD TO GIVE FARMERS RELIEF

State Senate Passes Bill to Defer Payments on Contracts; Voting Bills on Tap.

BOISE, Jan. 19. (AP)—The senate today passed a bill giving to the state land board authority to extend relief to purchasers of state land through deferred payments on contracts.

The bill encountered much debate participated in by Hoopes, democrat, Madison, supporting the measure and Robinson, republican, Washington, opposing it. Robertson finally reversed his stand when he discovered he was objecting to the bill because of a misunderstanding and it was passed.

The bill limited payments which could be suspended to the two years ending January 1, 1931.

The house amended the agricultural bill to extend honey, poultry, meat and dairy products the privilege of bonded warehouse by which these products may be deposited as security for loans.

Introduce Bill.

The house education committee introduced a bill giving school district trustees authority to levy a one-mill tax for night schools for adults wishing a broader general education. Trades, homemaking, agriculture and similar courses would be offered in addition to general education courses. The bill would authorize establishment of part time classes for persons between the ages of 15 and 21 who could not otherwise attend school.

The senate committee on highways, bridges and ferries introduced a bill providing a means of consolidating highway districts to reduce the number of commissioners. Two or more districts would be permitted to consolidate under supervision of county commissioners with the proviso that all districts take over obligations previously born by each district. They would be subdivided into three divisions, each of which would elect a commissioner. The vote of residents would be required.

Direct Authority.

Representative Clarence King, democrat, Canyon, introduced a measure calling for a constitutional amendment to give the legislature direct authority in irrigation district elections. Under the amendment the legislature "may restrict the voter with land ownership and require disclosure thereof at the time of voting."

The King resolution was described as a renewed attempt to set up some sort of a property qualification for voters in irrigation districts as now applied in school districts.

A meeting of the livestock committee was called after adjournment with the request that any one having anything to say of the "butcher bill" appear. "Butcher bills" enacted by the last legislature required branding of hides and carcasses of animals slain for meat. They were passed to prevent theft of cattle by "truck thieves" and hauling off of choice animals. Representative Anderson, Bonneville, chairman of the house livestock committee, said those who sponsored the law were somewhat doubtful of the value while a solid wall of opposition had arisen against it in north Idaho where farmers said they could not find an inspector handy enough to facilitate killing one of their own animals for distribution among their neighbors.

GIRL KILLS MAN IN CROWDED COURTROOM

Defendant in Trial of Girl's Father; Jury Ready to Take Case.

DEWITT, Ark., Jan. 19. (AP)—A 17-year-old girl shot to death a man on trial for the murder of her father in a crowded courtroom here early tonight as the jury was ready to retire with the case.

The girl, Mrs. Helen Spence Eaton, sat in the front seat in the court room throughout the day listening to the trial of Jack Worls, 30, charged with killing her father, Cicero Spence, and throwing his body in the White river.

When the jury was ready to take the case, the girl leaped from her seat, drew an automatic pistol and fired shots into Worls' body. He died in 15 minutes.

Gangland was never before depicted on the screen so cleverly, realistically and entertainingly as it is in "Born Reckless," the Fox Movitone feature with Edmund Lowe as "Louis Beretti" which opens at the Grand theatre today for three days.

While maintaining a surprising degree of accuracy in the vividness and naturalness of his characters, Director John Ford has also attained a gripping and breathless story, along with one of the most powerful climaxes it has ever been this reviewer's privilege to witness.

Aside from a brief interlude overseas during the war, most of the story's action takes place in and around New York. Lowe, the gang leader, grows prosperous with a string of speakeasies and turns control of his followers over to his bosom pal, Big Shot, retaining little connection with his former organization. Big Shot, however, gets "sent up" on a felony charge and before he leaves for prison, manages to kill the informer in the gang, who has betrayed him. On his return, the gang decide to stage a kidnapping to put Big Shot on his feet again.

All would be well had the kidnappers not selected the child of Lowe's hopeless love, a former society girl and a sister of his wartime buddy, who was killed in action. How Lowe regains the child, battles his one time allies in their reprisals, and finally has to shoot it out with his lifelong friend, "Big Shot," compose an ending that for dramatic intensity has seldom been equalled.

Lowe is superb in his sincere and convincing portrayal of the leading role, and Catherine Dale Owen is both lovely and effective as the society girl. The other featured players are Lee Tracy, Marguerite Churchill, Warren Hymer, William Harrigan and Frank Albertson, with Paul Page, Roy Stewart, Ben Bard, Mike Donlin, Yola D'Avril, Paul Porcasi, Perlks Boros and other favorites in the supporting roles.

Accomplishments of Izaak Walton League Reported by C. E. Horning

Accomplishments of the Shoshone county chapter, Izaak Walton league of America, during 1930 were set forth by Charles E. Horning, secretary, in a report that was submitted at a meeting of the directors Monday night and will later be sent to the national headquarters of the Izaak Walton league.

The report follows:

"1.—Forest protection and tree planting: The chapter has taken up with forest service officials the plan of excluding from timber sales all lands within trees or near the banks of streams and lakes which lie within the boundaries of national forests in Shoshone county. The chapter has received the assurance of the forest service that this will be done.

"2.—Park development and creating lakes (Other than for fish propagation): With the cooperation of the forest service the chapter through its park committee has established a picnic park on Placer creek near the city of Wallace, Idaho. Camp stoves and grates installed, benches and other seating accommodations and sanitary facilities have been provided. The camp will accommodate 75 to 100 persons and is secured to be popular picnic grounds during the past season.

Maintains Another Camp.

"Our chapter, cooperating with the forest service, is maintaining another picnic camp a few miles from Mullan, Idaho, on the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river. This camp needs some further improvements and plans therefor are included in our 1931 program.

"3.—Pollution elimination: We may accept as a fact that the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river has during the past 45 years of mining operations in this district been polluted beyond redemption. It is the opinion of the chapter, however, that continuance of mining operations on this stream and four of its tributaries which have also been polluted beyond redemption will not have any detrimental effect nor will it cause the pollution of any other waters. The chapter is vigorously opposing the pollution of any present clear water streams and has succeeded by cooperation with one of the mining companies which was expending its operations on a tributary of Eagle creek, which is, in turn, a tributary of the north fork of the Coeur d'Alene river, works for the elimination of solids in suspension in the waters discharged from the mine and concentrator have been erected on Eagle creek and have proved effective to the extent of absolutely clarifying the flow of water into the north fork.

"Another property operating on a stream tributary to the north fork is now closed down but the officers have stated that they will not again begin operations until they are able to install the necessary settling works.

Constructed Line.

"It might be mentioned that another mine in the district mills from 12 to 15,000 tons of ore per month is operating on Big creek, a clear water tributary of the polluted south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river. Immediately upon the erection of its concentrating mill this company constructed a pipe line from its plant to the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river for the purpose of conveying its mill wastes and by this means it has entirely eliminated any pollution from the clear water streams upon which it is operating.

"It might be expressed that some of the world's largest lead-silver mines are located in this county and many of these are so situated that the problem of eliminating stream pollution has always been and is now a difficult one. Many of these mines are located in narrow canyons and the problem of disposing of tailings and slimes from the concentrating mills is extremely difficult and costly. In this paragraph we have already mentioned the only mines which are operating mills in this district that are located on any stream which has not been polluted beyond redemption for from 30 to 40 years.

Install Rearing Tanks.

"4.—More fish: At the instance of the chapter, four rearing tanks have been installed at Carter on the north fork of the Coeur d'Alene river and approximately 400,000 four-inch cutthroat and rainbow trout were reared and distributed from these tanks during the past season, the actual planting being done by members of the chapter cooperating with the state game department and the forest service.

"The chapter also succeeded in obtaining from the federal fish hatchery at Bozeman, Mont., 85,000 steelhead eggs which were hatched at the Coeur d'Alene state fish hatchery, and 300,000 of the black spotted trout eggs, and distributed from the hatchery to waters in this and neighboring counties.

"In addition to this, the chapter obtained a large quantity of eastern brook trout from the state fish hatchery at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and planted these in a number of the smaller streams and in several of the lakes, 50,000 in Placer creek, 50,000 in Beaver creek and a large number in the head waters of the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river and in lower Cliddon lake. It might be mentioned in this connection that for the purpose of protecting the fish that were planted during the past season in lower Cliddon lake the chapter succeeded in having this lake closed by the state game department for a period of two years.

Remove Slate Creek Dam.

"A number of years ago a splash dam was constructed on Slate creek by a logging company which was at that time operating on this stream. A number of futile attempts have been made in the past to remove this dam to permit fish from the St. Joe river to enter Slate creek to reach its head waters for spawning but it was not until the past summer that the dam was effectively removed. This was done at the expense and under the supervision of the chapter.

"5.—More game: Through the efforts of the chapter a game preserve consisting of 13,000 acres was created, by proclamation of the state game warden, on the upper waters of the north fork of the Coeur d'Alene river. The chapter is now working on a plan to have another game preserve created on the upper waters of Slate creek which in recent years has become a great fall feeding range for deer.

"At the instance of the chapter and as a conservation measure the state game warden by proclamation indefinitely closed the season on upland game birds in this county with the understanding that the season on these birds (blue grouse, native pheasants, fool hens, etc.) would remain closed until its opening should be recommended by the directors of the chapter.

Obtain Rock Salt.

"During the past fall the chapter succeeded in obtaining from the state game department approximately two tons of rock salt which was distributed at various points over the county to be available for deer and elk at the opening of the coming spring season.

"6.—Other activities (Educational, cooperative, etc.): At a meeting of representative sportsmen of the 10 northern counties of Idaho at Moscow, December 2, 1930, the following recommendations to the legislature of the state of Idaho for changes in the fish and games laws were adopted. (Some of these were introduced at the instance, and all met with the approval of this chapter):

"That the closed season on bass in the 10 northern counties of the state of Idaho be from May 15 to July 15 inclusive; that the size limit be 10 inches; that the bag limit remain as is.

"That the minimum size of trout to be taken and held by fishermen be changed from six to eight inches.

"That the main Clearwater river and the north fork of the Clearwater river as far as the Little North Fork and the Middle ork as fas as the confluence of the Selwey and Lochsa rivers be declared open for fishing throughout the year.

"That the bounty on predatory animals be restored the same, as was; that the reaidence license fee be raised to $3.00, fifty cents to be used for the propagation of fish and the other fifty cents to be used for the paying of bounty on predatory animals.

Want Season Uniform.

"That the open season on Chinese pheasants and Hungarian pheasants be made uniform in the 10 northern counties of Idaho; that the open season shall be from November 1 to 15 inclusive; that the bag limit shall be two Chinese pheasants and four Hungarian pheasants in any one day.

"That a licensed guide law be adopted similar in its provisions to the present state law of Montana.

"That the open season on bear in the 10 northern counties of the state of Idaho be changed so that the dates coincide with those of the open season on deer.

"That those provisions of the game law relative to the storage of all kinds of game both as to quantity and time of storage be so clarified that a clear and intelligent interpretation can be placed upon them by all parties concerned."

General Report.

Following is a general report of the year's activity, submitted by Mr. Horning:

The chapter's activities for the year 1930 were opened with a public banquet in Wallace, Idaho, on January 28th. This banquet was attended by 142 sportsmen and sportswomen from all sections of the county and was also attended by the state game warden who entertained the members for two hours with an interesting talk on the state game department with particular reference to the cooperation received by it from the chapters of the Isaak Walton league throughout the state and with a large number of reels of motion pictures of game life of Idaho in its native habitat.

The directors of the chapter have followed the practice of holding weekly mid-day luncheons throughout the year for the purpose of discussing matters of interest to the chapter.

Merged Chapters.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the chapter during the past year was the merging of the Wallace and Kellogg chapters of the league. The Kellogg chapter surrendered its charter and the two chapters joined in what became the Shoshone county chapter.

The Wallace chapter of the league was organized through the efforts of John F. Ferguson who became the chapter's first secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ferguson was killed in an automobile accident in August, 1930. In commemoration of his love for the outdoors and his untiring efforts on behalf of the chapter directors of the chapter supervised the erection of a large stone monument with a bronze plate at the Ferguson summer home which is situated on Beaver creek and at the junction of the two-mile and nine-mile trails between the south fork of the Coeur d'Alene river, these being two of the earliest trails in the district and used exensively by the placer miners in the old gold rush days. The bronze plate set in the face of the monument bears the following inscription: "To the memory of John F. Ferguson and the pioneers who passed this way."

MRS. DONEY RELEASED.

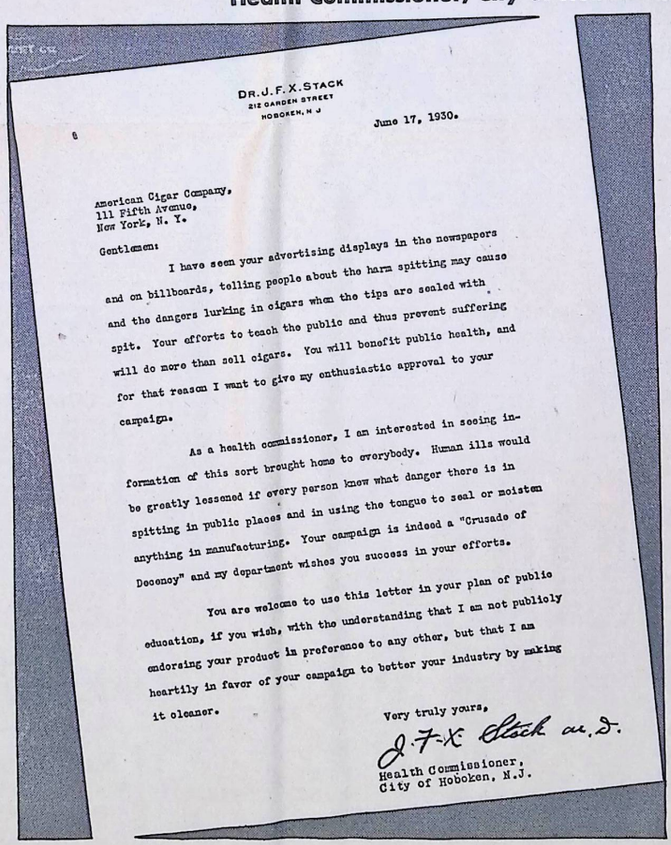
"You Will Benefit Public Health"
Says
DR. J. F. X. STACK
Health Commissioner, City of Hoboken, N. J.



DR. J. F. X. STACK
212 GARDEN STREET
HOBOKEN, N. J.

June 17, 1930.

American Cigar Company,
111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

I have seen your advertising displays in the newspapers and on billboards, telling people about the harm spitting may cause and the dangers lurking in cigars when the tips are sealed with spit. Your efforts to teach the public and thus prevent suffering will do more than sell cigars. You will benefit public health, and for that reason I want to give my enthusiastic approval to your campaign.

As a health commissioner, I am interested in seeing information of this sort brought home to everybody. Human ills would be greatly lessened if every person knew what danger there is in spitting in public places and in using the tongue to seal or moisten anything in manufacturing. Your campaign is indeed a "Crusade of Decency" and my department wishes you success in your efforts.

You are welcome to use this letter in your plan of public education, if you wish, with the understanding that I am not publicly endorsing your product in preference to any other, but that I am heartily in favor of your campaign to better your industry by making it cleaner.

Very truly yours,
J. F. X. Stack M. D.
Health Commissioner,
City of Hoboken, N. J.

. . . one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Stack's letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Stack writes: "I am heartily in favor of your campaign to better your industry by making it cleaner."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it... Smoke Certified Cremo — a really wonderful smoke — mild — mellow — nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.
